Walsh, Fox, Satkin, budget receive vote

The three seats were vacated by board members Dr. Susan Fuhrman, Bonnie March and Carolyn Moran, all of whom opted not to seek re-election.

Schools superintendent Dr. Mark Smith congratulated the winners and all eight candidates. "I'm pleased both by the number of qualified candidates and the final outcome," said Mr. Smith. "I'm looking forward to working with Darville Walsh, Mike Fox and Eileen Satkin. I think they'll make terrific additions to the board."

Mr. Smith was also happy with the passage of the budget, but even he was surprised by how many voters supported it. "I'm extremely pleased that the budget passed, and pleasantly surprised at the margin," he said. "I anticipated that it would pass, but I hadn't anticipated by how much, over 2 to 1. We've had good support for the last four years, and today's vote was consistent with the elections of 1981, 1980 and 1989."

Mr. Smith said he felt the Quality Education Act aroused some concern in suburban committees, and said that this resentment could have led to the overwhelming success of the budget. The 5.6 percent budget increase cap that the board had to work with may have also helped people's perception of the budget, he said.

The superintendent pointed out that the 5.6 percent budget increase was the lowest since 1978, and that people he had spoken with appreciated the efforts of the board to keep the increase low. Of 16,834 registered voters, 3,104 cast ballots. That represents a voter turnout of 18 percent. Last year, 22.7 percent of the 16,810 registered voters cast ballots year, 4.7 percent higher than the state average.

The fourth highest vote getter was Stephen Benisch, an attorney, with 1,116. He was followed by William Sweeney, an attorney, with 1,072 votes, attorney Robert Mulvey and fiber artist Catherine Marchant with 952 each, and research biologist Lawrence Soffer, who garnered 547 votes. It was Mr. Soffer's second attempt at winning a board seat.

cobson continued, "that this contract not only holds cost down, but also continues to recognize the demands and responsibilities of our school administrators."

"We strive to keep administrative costs consistent with salaries of school administrators in similar districts in the county, state and nation."

The agreement also includes an increase in the major medical deductible from $200 to $400 for families and from $100 to $200 for individuals, starting in September.

Co-payment amounts on prescriptions have increased from $4 to $6 for families and from $2 to $3 for individuals for 1992-1993. The current rates increased from the 1990-1991 co-payment costs of $2 and $1 respectively. The medical deductible and co-payments are the same as those negotiated with the Westfield Education Association and the Westfield support staff. Those agreements were reached in September of last year.

Board members Susan Jacobson, Susan Pepper and Dr. Susan Fuhrman negotiated with WAAS president Robert G. Felix (Westfield High School Principal), and WAAS members Joseph Muzas (computer services supervisor), Paula Roy (high school English department head), Frank Scott (high school assistant principal) and David Tuller (Tamaques School principal).

Last year's average salary increase for administrators over 1990-1991 was 7.76 percent.

hospital. When it was time to bring the baby home last week, the squad returned to Overlook to give mother and baby a ride.

"We kept close contact with the hospital," said Mrs. Keogh. "Pam let us see her and we would call her at the hospital to check up on them. We had a good rapport with Pam from the beginning. After all, we kind of have a vested interest."

"How do you think people who have saved your daughter's life?" she said. "Every time I think about it, the words don't come. We'll forever be indebted to them."

Mrs. Fuller is also deeply appreciative to the Westfield Red Cross for getting her husband, who is in the Navy, home from duty on the U.S.S. Seattle to see his daughter. Andy Fuller, who had shipped out the day before the birth.
